

Did I say she doesn't lose her focus? I lied. All I know is, I turned around for one second to check out this $2 guitar with no strings and this one's shopping for a wedding dress. She explains to me that with the right bag you could technically wear this to the prom. But she's got bigger plans for this beauty.

So it's the wrong occasion, and she's a few years early--so what? The chick's got a flare for funk. And although she threatened to wear it to the prom, we suspect she'll sport the disco-inspired steal she managed to throw together in between her veil fittings. Click here for the real thing. Drum roll please...
